

Cite

Cite is the annual theology and missions conference for the Simeon Network, the AFES network of uni staff and postgrad students. Cite begins with dinner and keynote address on Friday evening, featuring Ed Loane speaking on the history of Charles Simeon and his influence on university ministry.

Ed Loane

Cite 2026 will be covering the doctrine of the trinity, with Ed Loane as our speaker. Ed is an Anglican minister serving as Warden of St Paul's College, University of Sydney. He studied at Sydney University, Moore Theological College, and Cambridge University, completing his PhD in 2014. He has taught doctrine and church history at Moore College since 2014.

Samuel Green

Our missions component is on engaging with Muslims about the trinity, and will be headlined by Samuel Green. Samuel became a Christian at university. Since 1999 he has worked with AFES as a campus evangelist and Islamic Engagement Director. He is also a founding writer for the Answering Islam website and is an Anglican and UTAS Interfaith Chaplain.

	Cite Weekend	Cite Week Incl. Friday
Camping	$380	$560
Standard 3–6 people	$430	$720
Premium 2 per room	$500	$850
Single 1 person	$610	$1,130
Day*	$350	$495
* Day Rego includes everything except breakfast and accommodation.

Date: Fri 4 - Wed 9 December
(Weekend-only option: Fri 4 - Sun 6 Dec)

Location: EPIC, Canberra

Various accommodation options including billeting. All accommodation options apart from camping and billeting will be at the same venue as other Cite delegates. Day rate is applicable for billeting.

Register at nte.org.au/cite
OR via the QR Code

